Sample Handbook for Self-Healing RAG Demonstration

This fictional document is created solely as a test knowledge base for a Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG) application.

1. Attendance Requirements

Students must maintain a minimum attendance of 75% in each course to be eligible to appear for the semester-end examination.

Students whose attendance is between 65% and 74% may request attendance condonation, subject to the institution's approval process and applicable rules.

Students with attendance below 65% are normally not eligible to appear for the semester-end examination unless an exceptional rule specifically applies.

Attendance is calculated from the classes actually conducted during the semester. Approved academic activities may be treated according to institutional guidelines.

2. Internal Assessment

Internal assessment consists of three components: mid-term examinations, assignments, and continuous evaluation.

Assignments must normally be submitted by the deadline announced by the faculty member. Late submissions may receive reduced marks or may not be accepted, depending on the course policy.

Students are responsible for checking official announcements concerning internal assessment schedules.

3. Semester-End Examination

Students must satisfy the attendance and academic eligibility requirements before appearing for the semester-end examination.

Students should carry their valid college identification card and examination hall ticket when attending an examination.

Electronic devices, including mobile phones and smart watches, are not permitted inside the examination hall unless specifically authorized.

4. Academic Integrity

Students are expected to submit their own academic work. Plagiarism, unauthorized collaboration, impersonation, and the use of prohibited materials during examinations may be treated as academic misconduct.

Faculty members may require students to explain or demonstrate work submitted for assessment.

5. Library Rules

Students may borrow up to three books at a time for a standard loan period of 14 days.

Books should be returned on or before the due date. Overdue materials may attract a library fine according to the applicable library schedule.

Reference books marked as non-issue materials must be consulted inside the library and cannot normally be taken outside.

6. Hostel Rules

Hostel residents must follow the published entry, exit, quiet-hour, and visitor procedures.

Quiet hours are from 10:00 PM to 6:00 AM. Students are expected to avoid activities that disturb other residents during this period.

Cooking appliances and other restricted electrical equipment may not be used in rooms unless specifically permitted by hostel management.

7. Fees and Academic Registration

Students must complete semester registration within the dates announced by the institution.

Fee payment deadlines are communicated through official college notices. Late payment may result in applicable penalties or restrictions on registration.
